Alois 2018 Pallagrello Nero Murella

Terre Del Volturno, Campania

Red wine from Italy

Drinking window: 2025 - 2030

The 2018 Pallagrello Nero Murella grumbles up from the glass, leading off with a whiff of crushed ashen stones that evolve into waves of citrus-tinged blackberries and savory herbs. This is texturally deep and nearly creamy in feel. It's lifted and sleek, with crisp wild berry fruits mixing with its saline-mineral core. Mint and savory spice nuances mingle as the 2018 flexes its structural muscles, finishing long and youthfully tense. This is fantastic, especially in the context of the vintage.

Eric Guido. Tasting date: April 2023
